Pneumatics Increase Life Expectancy

For over 60 years Clippard have designed and manufactured innovative products for the pneumatics industry worldwide. Having been pioneers in the field of miniature pneumatic products Clippard have established an enviable reputation within the pneumatics industry.

Each precision made control valve incorporates high quality components and are 100% tested to precise standards at their Cincinnati manufacturing plants. Clippard's emphasis on quality, precision and reliability has brought about an international demand for its products from the healthcare, analytical and scientific industries.

To satisfy this growing demand for 'Life Science' products Clippard announce the introduction of a new dedicated catalogue which includes thousands of products containing full technical information and application guidance.

Each product is clean room assembled, 100% tested and available for use with a variety of medias and gases including oxygen clean areas.

To obtain your copy of Clippard's new 'Scientific Catalogue' contact The West Group Ltd who can provide full technical support and advise on these and all other Clippard products. The West Group have acted as a sole distributor for Clippard covering the U.K and Ireland for the past 35 years.
