Change Description

The manufacturer of these products has advised that it is necessary to make a white colourant change from Masterbatch Universal White UN0005 to Masterbatch Universal White UN932567. The reason for this is that the UN0005 has lost food contact approval.

Implementation

UN0005 will be used until the end of March 2024 when it will be replaced by UN932567.

Contact Information:

Please feel free to contact your Business Development Manager if you have any concerns about this change. We will be happy to provide samples and/or data sheets of these products and work with you to provide any solutions.
